BOARDROOM OF IDEAS

Invested in the Opportunities of Tomorrow

How are businesses responding to an evolving macro and geopolitical landscape? How are leaders pivoting to address global challenges, including shifting supply chains, the energy transition, emerging public health threats, and the rise of new technologies?

In our inaugural Boardroom of Ideas, we hear from top executives across a range of industries and geographies on how they are managing the risks and opportunities associated with these long-term structural trends, and what it means for them to stay invested in a global future.
